¹Up to 1910 all graduates of the Law School received the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Beginning with 1910, the degree of Juris Doctor (J. D.) was conferred on students who reached a certain distinction in their work. This scheme obtains at the present time. In the 1910 and all succeeding class lists J. D. is written after the name of each graduate receiving the degree of Juris Doctor. All others received the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Since 1890, the degree of Master of Laws has been conferred on the graduates of this School and of other Schools of Law who have completed a course of advanced study. A list of these follows the class of 1921.

¹The School of Pharmacy was organized as a separate Department of the University in December, 1876. Prior to that date the course leading to the degree of Pharmaceutical Chemist was given in the Department of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

From 1869 to 1913 graduates of this College in the two years' course received the degree of Pharmaceutical Chemist. In the four years' course the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy was conferred. This degree was conferred as a second degree. In the 1911 edition of the General Catalogue of Alumni, the lists of graduates with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy follow the lists of advanced degrees, Master of Pharmacy and Master of Science in Pharmacy. A reorganization of the courses in 1913 provided for three first degrees, Graduate in Pharmacy, Pharmaceutical Chemist, and Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy. Because of this reorganization, graduates with these three first degrees are combined in the various lists recorded in this book. Following each name is a statement of the degree or degrees received.

Up to 1894 and 1912, the degrees of Master of Pharmacy and Master of Science in Pharmacy, respectively, were conferred on graduates who completed a prescribed course of advanced studies. These two lists follow the Class of 1921. Since 1912 advanced study in Pharmacy has been done in the Graduate School.

¹The following list of non-graduates is intended to include the names of all persons who matriculated in any College or School of the University, prior to the beginning of the academic year 1921-1922, and who have not taken a degree. It includes also the names of persons who matriculated subsequent to that date, and are not now living. From 1855 to 1877, the courses in analytical and applied chemistry, given in the Department of Literature, Science, and the Arts, were largely attended by medical students, whose names were printed in the annual calendars with the regular students of the Department. The names of such medical students, however, are not included in this list.

The letter immediately following each name indicates the College or School attended; the figures, the period or periods of attendance.
